The School of Social Transformation, an interdisciplinary unit at Arizona State University (http://sst.asu.edu), invites applications for a full-time instructor position in Women and Gender Studies. The anticipated start date is Fall 2020. We seek a candidate with a Ph.D. in Women and Gender Studies by the time of appointment and demonstrated excellence in teaching.

The successful candidate will have a typical teaching load of 4 courses per semester. Essential functions include teaching courses at the undergraduate and graduate level; preparing syllabi; potential new course design; evaluating student work; student mentoring; holding office hours. The successful candidate will be expected to teach core courses as well as high enrollment special topics courses. The candidate will also teach in a variety of modalities.

This is an academic-year 2020-2021 appointment with an expected start date of Fall 2020. This is a full-time, benefits-eligible, non-tenure eligible position renewable on an academic year basis. This appointment is contingent upon sufficient enrollment in courses taught by the department to support this position. If enrollment is insufficient, this appointment may be rescinded prior to the start of Fall 2020 classes, or terminated early prior to a subsequent class session (such as Fall Session B or Spring Sessions A, B, or C).

The School of Social Transformation is in The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences and is an innovative interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary unit that places just solutions to societal challenges at the center of its scholarship and teaching endeavors.

Required Qualifications:
- A Ph.D. in Women and Gender Studies by the time of appointment.
- A demonstrated excellence in teaching.

Desired Qualifications:
- Demonstrated experience teaching core courses within the Women and Gender Studies curriculum.
- Demonstrated experience teaching at both the undergraduate and graduate level.
- Demonstrated experience with new course design.
- Demonstrated experience teaching in a variety of modalities.
- A demonstrated excellence in mentoring students.
- The ability to teach online and/or a range of courses.

Initial deadline for receipt of complete applications is July 10, 2020. If not filled, review of complete applications will continue every two weeks thereafter until the search is closed.

To apply, please submit the following materials electronically to: https://apply.interfolio.com/76242
- A cover letter describing your experience and demonstrated commitment to teaching excellence.
- A curriculum vitae.
A list of three references, including contact information.
A 1-page statement explaining how you would contribute to diversity and inclusion of SST at ASU or a 1-page statement describing how your work addresses diversity and equity in your field(s) of study.

Questions about this position should be directed to Michelle McGibbney Vlahoulis, Chair of the Search Committee via email to michelle.mcgibbney@asu.edu

The College values our cultural and intellectual diversity, and continually strives to foster a welcoming and inclusive environment. We are especially interested in applicants who can strengthen the diversity of the academic community. Learn more about what The College of Liberal Arts and Sciences has to offer by visiting https://thecollege.asu.edu/faculty.

A background check is required for employment.

Arizona State University is a VEVRAA Federal Contractor and an Equal Opportunity/Affirmative Action employer committed to excellence through diversity (see ASU’s Prohibition Against Discrimination, Harassment, and Retaliation policy at http://www.asu.edu/aad/manuals/acd/acd401.html). All qualified applicants will be considered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, disability, protected veteran status, or any other basis protected by law (see ASU’s Title IX policy at https://www.asu.edu/titleIX/). Women and minorities are encouraged to apply.

In compliance with federal law, ASU prepares an annual report on campus security and fire safety programs and resources. ASU’s Annual Security and Fire Safety Report is available online at https://www.asu.edu/police/PDFs/ASU-Clery-Report.pdf You may request a hard copy of the report by contacting the ASU Police Department at 480-965-3456.